cookies on your device if you choose to have cookies enabled in your browser or they may otherwise have access to non-personal identifying information.

Used in combination with cookies, a Web beacon is an often-transparent graphic image, usually no larger than 1 pixel x 1 pixel, that is placed on a Web site or in an e-mail that records an end-user's visit to a particular web page.

A Web beacon can be detected by viewing the source code of a Web page and looking for any IMG tags that load from a different server than the rest of the site. Turning off the browser's cookies will prevent Web beacons from tracking the user's activity. The Web beacon will still account for an anonymous visit, but the user's unique information will not be recorded. Third party cookies and web beacons are governed by each third party's specific privacy policy; therefore, SAVI is not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of any third parties.
